

ONE JUROR IS ADDED

Slow Progress Being Made in the Haywood Trial.

ANSWERS MAKE MANY LAUGH

Attorneys Darrow and Richardson for the Defense Develop Numerous Reasons for Disqualifying Talmadge—Unless Faster Progress Is Made Trial Will Take All Summer.

Boise, Idaho, May 24.—Attorneys for the defense in the Haywood murder trial swept the habitable globe to-day in their efforts to develop reasons for disqualifying all the talmadge called on serving on the jury that is to try their client. Millions of words resulted. Darrow emitted them all the morning, and Richardson relieved him in the afternoon. These two skilled lawyers devoted their talents to tangling up the farmers who succeeded one another in the jury chairs in rapid succession.

For the most part they found it an easy job. The result was that when court quit business for the day there was only twenty-five of the panel of sixty talmadge who had not been examined and disqualified. Only one of the sixty has as yet got past the examiners. He is Henry Curtis, a middle-aged Englishman.

Before he came along B. W. Hoover sprung a hot one along the court. He is State inspector of rifle practice, and when he tried to get off on that ground yesterday he was turned down. This morning he was turned down.

Belongs Brief to Court.

"Why, it's a brief," said the court. Practically, it was. It quoted a statute which prescribed that any man who held any office as State inspector of rifle practice should be exempt from jury duty. The court had never heard of the statute before. Nor had any of the lawyers in court. But it got Hoover out, anyway, and he escaped in a cloud of glory.

Mr. Curtis, it seemed, was a number of things. He was, among them, a non-conformist Republican. He could see some good in most every sort of belief, even in socialism.

Mr. Darrow wanted to know if Farmer Curtis knew Senator Borah or Lawyer Hawley, of the prosecution.

"No, sir," said the farmer. "I'll try to arrange my business so as to keep away from the lawyers."

"Of course," he explained, when the laugh died out. "I ain't got anything against them as a class, but I try not to have any dealings with 'em if I can help it."

Curtis was allowed to stick.

McBean Last Man Up.

Farmer Finley McBean was the last up for the day. He is a huge, rawboned, freckle-faced Scotchman, who was almost paralyzed by the limelight of the jury box. It was several minutes before he became audible. They wanted to know about his newspaper reading, too.

"I did have an opinion at first," he said, "but the more I read about it the less I knowed."

The entire courtroom roared, and McBean gazed at his ample feet in abject misery. He was still on the stand at adjournment time. There are not wanting predictions that if things go on as they did to-day, the court will still be trying to get a jury on the glorious Fourth.

BOECK ALSO A BORROWER.

Jewelry Salesman Found Victims in Many of His Friends.

New York, May 24.—The money that J. Edward Boeck, the clever jewelry salesman, got away with grows every day. The fact that Boeck had borrowed heavily came to light to-day when there was a rush of persons to the offices of Marsh, Pitt & Co., 270 Broadway, to replenish on a large amount of Chinese porcelain that Boeck had on display there. Boeck had his office with Marsh, Pitt & Co.

Just what efforts have been made to locate Boeck are not known at present.

WOMEN CHEER WRESTLERS.

Fully Two Hundred See Bout, While Girls Act as Ushers.

Springfield, Mass., May 24.—Women were admitted last night to a professional wrestling match in the new Gilmore Theater, between Jim Barnes, of Oconto, Wis., and Joe Acton, the English wrestler.

To make the women feel perfectly at home, and also to attract male patrons, buxom young women were engaged as ushers. A thousand sports made the most of having pretty girls guide them to their seats. The edge was taken from the evening's enjoyment by the announcement that because of the presence of the women no smoking would be allowed.

More than 200 women were present at the most strenuous athletic exhibition, femininity has yet been privileged to witness in Springfield. The consensus of opinion was that the sport was "almost as nice as football."

Acton won the first fall, the suddenness of the left rendering Barnes unconscious. Barnes gained the next two falls in short order and won the match.

HOLDS STANDARD GUILTY.

Ouster Suit in Missouri Upheld by Anthony Report.

St. Louis, Mo., May 24.—Attorney General Hadley's contention that the Standard Oil Company had formed a trust to control prices and to regulate the supply in Missouri, was sustained in toto by the report of Commissioner Anthony, which was filed with the Supreme Court to-day.

His findings held that the Standard, Waters-Pierce, and Republic Oil companies entered into an agreement to control prices of oil. He recommends that their charters be revoked and that they be ousted from the State. In his report he holds that the Standard Oil Company is an illegal combination in restraint of trade. Decision is expected tomorrow.

Arnold Mouldauer Dead.

Boston, May 24.—Arnold Mouldauer, for twenty-two years a first violin in the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is dead. Mouldauer was born in Austria forty-two years ago. At seventeen he became first violin in the Vienna opera house.

Ex-Senator Patton Dead.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 24.—Former United States Senator John Patton died this morning of typhoid fever.

BELL IN DEATH ROW NOW.

Convicted Street Car Conductor Says He Won't Be Executed.

New York, May 24.—"I'll never go to the electric chair, mark that!" said John Bell, convicted murderer of Dr. Charles William Townsend, to-day. "They'll never electrocute me, though I'm sentenced."

Bell, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury at Richmond, Staten Island, last evening, was taken to Sing Sing to-day and placed in a cell in "death row."

The convicted trolley conductor was up at 6 o'clock this morning, and after eating a hearty breakfast was informed by the sheriff that he would be taken to Sing Sing in a few hours. He made no objection.

A group of prisoners stood about the corridor and waited for their opportunity to shake hands with and receive a farewell from Bell. As the condemned prisoner walked out with the sheriff he shouted to the other prisoners: "Good-by, boys, I'm sorry I've got to leave you. The jury handed me a lemon, but I'll come out all right."

FOUND WITH THROATS CUT.

Peter McGinnis and Wife Had a Quarrel Before Tragedy.

Philadelphia, May 24.—With their throats cut from ear to ear, Peter McGinnis, aged forty-eight years, and his wife Bridget, thirty-eight years old, were found dead to-day in their home in the lower section of the city. The couple had not been seen since Tuesday, when neighbors heard them quarreling.

The police were notified to-day, and after forcing an entrance into the house they found the couple lying in the lower hallway. The kitchen, dining-room, and hall were bespattered with blood. The police are inclined to believe that McGinnis cut his wife's throat and then his own. The room showed every indication of a struggle.

DR. LONG ASSAILS WHITNEY

Declares Outing Editor Suddenly Changed Ideas.

Writer of Natural History Stories Defends Articles from Attacks of President and Magazine Owner.

Stamford, May 24.—In an interview to-day regarding criticism of himself indulged in by Caspar Whitney, since President Roosevelt attacked his "Nature Books," the Rev. Dr. William J. Long declared he was amazed at Caspar Whitney's sudden change of front in the natural history controversy precipitated by President Roosevelt's criticism of the animal stories of Dr. Long, Charles G. D. Roberts, and other writers.

"On yesterday," said Dr. Long, "Mr. Whitney approved of those animal stories of mine, and bought them for his magazine and several times wrote for me. To-day, he turns round and says I know nothing about animals, and declares that these same animal stories which he tried to get for his magazine are 'The worst of fakes and full of ignorance and impossibilities.'"

Dr. Long then showed a reporter a number of letters from Caspar Whitney. In one of them the former says: "Outing is always looking for something from Dr. Long." In another Mr. Whitney offers Dr. Long the editorship of a department of natural history in his magazine. One of the letters did not refer to the complimentary terms to President Roosevelt, but Dr. Long declined to make the letter public.

MOHONK CONFERENCE ENDS.

Ambassador Creel Favors Drago Doctrine as Advocated by Root.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., May 24.—Diplomatic representatives of foreign powers accredited to the United States were the principal speakers to-day at the thirtieth annual gathering of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration.

MAY PLAY SUNDAY GAMES.

Norfolk Management Arranges to Play Lynchburg on Sunday.

Norfolk, Va., May 24.—It was officially announced here to-night by President Wells, of the Norfolk club, and Manager Jack Grim, of Lynchburg, that their clubs will play ball here Sunday afternoon.

Professional baseball has never before been played in Norfolk or in Virginia. The Norfolk ball park is located in Norfolk County. It is believed that the club managers have received assurances from the police of the county that the game will not be interfered with.

WILL MEET THEIR FOUNDER.

Boys' Brigades to Turn Out to Welcome Glasgow Organizer.

The United Boys' Brigade of America are having the pleasure of a visit from the founder of the original society in Glasgow, Scotland, W. A. Smith, who still continues as the executive head of the British Boys' Brigade. It is needless to say that a great treat is in store for the boys of the cities to be visited. Much good is expected to be accomplished through conference of workers with this experienced associate.

GEORGE SCRUGHAM ARRESTED.

Held in $2,500 Bail on a Charge of Forgery.

New York, May 24.—Magistrate House, on the application of Assistant District Attorney Smyth, issued warrants to-day for the arrest of George R. Scrugham, manager of the International policy holders' committee, and Charles Sturup, his associate on the committee. After a hearing lasting several days Magistrate House held both men on a charge of conspiracy, growing out of the election of New York Life trustees last December.

The forgery charges are the result of testimony at that hearing to the effect that Scrugham and Sturup filed in the names of witnesses and policy holders on the ballots.

By agreement Scrugham appeared in the Jefferson Market Police Court shortly after 2 o'clock and was placed under formal arrest. Magistrate House fixed his bail at $2,500, which was furnished by Fred Haberman, of 31 East Sixtieth street.

Ocean Steamships.

New York, May 24.—Arrived—Steamer Hudson, Havre, May 11.

Arrived—Steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, at Cherbourg, from New York; La Touraine, at Havre, from New York; Campania, at Queenstown, from New York.

Sailed from foreign ports—Steamer Bluebird, from Cherbourg, for New York.

Not the biggest, but the newest,

the brightest, and the best—and it costs only 2 cents—the Sunday issue of The Washington Herald.

COMMUNICATIVE WINE.

For this purpose we have a specially selected and pure grape juice, that is being used largely by the clergy here and elsewhere. Said to be glad to furnish sample upon request.

Special prices to the clergy.

EDDY CASE ARGUED

Court Considers Motion for Change of Plaintiffs.

THE DECISION IS WITHHELD

Judge Chamberlin May Make Ruling in Few Days—Suit Will Be Heard from No More Until Next October.

Concord, N. H., May 24.—The concluding arguments in the hearing incidental to the bill in equity, Eddy vs. Frye, in which the issue was raised by way of a separate motion asking that the trustees of Mrs. Eddy's estate be substituted for the next friends as plaintiffs, under the original bill, were made to-day, court being in session from 9 o'clock this morning until 6 o'clock to-night, with an hour interim for lunch.

Most of the day was consumed by counsel for George W. Glover and other next friends, arguing against the motion to intervene.

De Witt C. Howe, occupied all the time at the morning session and an hour this afternoon, addressing himself mainly to the proposition that this was no legal ground for setting aside the original plaintiffs for the Eddy trustees, who, in the role of substituted plaintiffs, would simply drop the case of Eddy vs. Frye et al., and the question of Mrs. Eddy's competency would never be judicially determined.

Claims Contempt of Court.

Senator William E. Chandler, senior counsel for George W. Glover, also spoke at length against the motion to intervene. He argued that the execution of a deed of trust by which Mrs. Eddy's property was conveyed to Messrs. Baker, McLellan, and Fernald, subsequent to the filing of the bill in equity, was, in his mind, the boldest sort of contempt of court proceeding of which he had ever known.

The ex-Senator, in reviewing the incidents which led up to the suit in equity, mentioned the chief plaintiff, George W. Glover, and Counsel Streeter, for the trustees, asked Mr. Chandler to present.

Senator Chandler replied that it was because they had no funds to get him there. "You have," replied Gen. Streeter. "I can take the lie from Gen. Streeter," answered Mr. Chandler, "as I have taken it previously from higher authority than he."

This passage was followed by laughter among the spectators, necessitating the calling for order by the sheriff.

Mr. Chandler argued that it was a preposterous proposition that three trustees appointed by the power represented by the defendants in the original bill should be substituted for Mrs. Eddy's own son and other relatives who, as original plaintiffs, were seeking an accounting and general investigation of Mrs. Eddy's affairs and condition.

Gen. Frank S. Streeter, Mrs. Eddy's personal counsel and counsel for the trustees, made the closing argument, stating that the authority of the trustees rested upon the trust deed itself, which was a valid document and conferred upon the trustees the right to prosecute the equity case upon the presentation of the evidence of wrongdoing.

As Judge Chamberlin has a new court assignment within a fortnight, there is no likelihood that more will be heard of the case in court until the October term, except the possible decision by the judge of the special motion which has been argued during the past two days.

MAY PLAY SUNDAY GAMES.

Norfolk Management Arranges to Play Lynchburg on Sunday.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Norfolk, Va., May 24.—It was officially announced here to-night by President Wells, of the Norfolk club, and Manager Jack Grim, of Lynchburg, that their clubs will play ball here Sunday afternoon.

Professional baseball has never before been played in Norfolk or in Virginia. The Norfolk ball park is located in Norfolk County. It is believed that the club managers have received assurances from the police of the county that the game will not be interfered with.

WILL MEET THEIR FOUNDER.

Boys' Brigades to Turn Out to Welcome Glasgow Organizer.

The United Boys' Brigade of America are having the pleasure of a visit from the founder of the original society in Glasgow, Scotland, W. A. Smith, who still continues as the executive head of the British Boys' Brigade. It is needless to say that a great treat is in store for the boys of the cities to be visited. Much good is expected to be accomplished through conference of workers with this experienced associate.

Mr. Smith brings with him his wife, a cousin of the British Prime Minister, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman. They are to be guests of the American brigadiers in the cities they visit. Their tour includes New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, and St. Louis.

The Washington visit includes entertainment at the New Willard, a mass meeting for boys at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday at 4:15 p. m., a trip to Mount Vernon, a presentation to President Roosevelt, for which Mr. Smith bears credentials, and a letter of introduction from the lord provost of Glasgow, and a reception at the Hamline M. E. Church, Monday evening.

The boys' meeting will be under the joint auspices of the boys' branch of the Y. M. C. A. and the Boys' Brigade. Commissioner Macfarland will preside, and Mr. Smith will be the speaker. Music will be furnished by the association orchestra.

Members of military or religious organizations for boys are invited to attend in uniform. Admission will be by ticket, to be obtained of Secretary Chesley, at the Y. M. C. A., of superintendents of Sunday schools, or of officers of the Boys' Brigade.

The reception on Monday evening will afford all friends of the boys an opportunity to meet and speak with these workers, who have been so remarkably successful in promoting Christian manliness among the boys of all English-speaking countries.

Actor Dies in Hospital.

New York, May 24.—William A. Niles, an actor, a member of the Baltimore Theatrical Managers' Association, who was brought to Bellevue Hospital on May 21 and placed in the alcoholic ward suffering from alcoholic dementia, died to-night.

No Color and No Comic.

The Sunday issue of The Washington Herald is growing with each succeeding issue because it is so different from other Sunday papers. It is bright and newsy and clean all the way through.

REIDS GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

Many Prominent Persons Guests at London Home of Ambassador.

London, May 24.—The entertainment that Ambassador and Mrs. Whitehead Reid gave to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught to-night was one of the chief social events of the season. Three parties were seated at as many tables, headed by Ambassador Reid, Mrs. Reid, and Miss Reid, respectively. Mrs. Reid had the Duke of Connaught on her right-hand side; Miss Reid, Prince Arthur of Connaught, and the duchess sat beside Mr. Reid.

The guests at dinner included the Duke and Duchess of Roxburgh, the Countess of Stratford, Lord and Lady Paget, Lady Crew, Secretary and Mrs. Carter, of the American Embassy, and Lady Garbrough.

For after dinner nearly 1,000 invitations were issued. The Countesses of Coventry, Chesterfield, Dalkeith, Jersey, and Powis, the Dukes and Duchesses of Westminster and Somerset, the Duchess of Wellington, the Marquis and Marchioness of Ormonde, Lord Revelstoke, and the Countess Morley were among those who attended.

When the magistrate asked Bjelk what he had to say for himself Joseph held up a crooked little finger and pointed to an eye that was out of order.

"The did that," he exclaimed through an interpreter. "And she makes me sleep under the bed and feeds me on cold victuals. Besides, she is jealous, and when she sees me as much as speak to another woman she beats me."

"How is this?" demanded Magistrate Finn of Katherine. "Do you beat your husband?"

"Yes, sometimes," the woman replied.

"How often?" persisted the magistrate.

"Whenever he needs it; sometimes only two or three times a month, sometimes every day. When he is good I don't beat him."

"Why do you make him sleep under the bed?"

The woman was unable to answer this question for the fit of laughter into which it threw her. She finally subsided, however, and then the magistrate asked Joseph if he was willing to go home with Katherine. Joseph didn't think he was.

"Well, I guess there's no use trying to reconcile you two," said the magistrate. "Are you willing to pay your wife $5 a week, Joseph?"

Bjelk said he was. Then the magistrate wanted to know of Katherine if she would take her husband's word for the payment.

"I will not," replied Mrs. Bjelk, promptly.

"Then I will have to send him to jail, warned the magistrate.

This made Mrs. Bjelk ponder a bit. Finally she decided to take Joseph home, whether he would go or not, and give him another trial.

"All right," said Magistrate Finn.

So Katherine motioned imperiously to Joseph and started for the door, poor Joseph in his wake.

PRESBYTERIANS ADJOURN.

The Assembly Defends Anti-Saloon League—Meets in Kansas City.

Columbus, Ohio, May 24.—The Presbyterian General Assembly adjourned to-night, after selecting Kansas City as the next place of meeting.

The Anti-Saloon League to-day lost its fight against the report of the permanent temperance committee because that body favored the church temperance federation, which the General Assembly, without a dissenting voice, adopted the report of that committee.

The league, however, secured a commendation, and Rev. T. R. Worrell, of Pennsylvania, who presented the report, and who had room for it, and should divide money in the propagation of its work, but that the church should be an entirely separate organization.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Washington, Friday, May 24, 1907.—The conditions have changed but little since Thursday night, and are expected to remain about the same for the next few days.

Temperatures are, as a rule, somewhat lower, although there are no changes of consequence. As there is a marked depression over Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, and a well-defined high area over the Lakes, there is no present prospect of considerable improvement in weather conditions during the next two days over the districts east of the Rocky Mountains, and showers will continue over the lower portion of this extensive area, without decided temperature changes, except in the Middle States, where it will be somewhat cooler.

SPECIAL FORECASTS.

Post warnings have been issued for Utah, Western Colorado, the northern portions of New Mexico and Arizona, Idaho, Eastern Oregon, and Northwestern Washington, and warnings of freezing temperatures for Wyoming.

Local Temperature.

Midnight, 62; 2 a. m., 59; 4 a. m., 57; 6 a. m., 57; 8 a. m., 56; 10 a. m., 55; 12 noon, 52; 2 p. m., 55; 4 p. m., 56; 6 p. m., 58; 8 p. m., 60; 10 p. m., 61; Maximum, 62; Minimum, 52.

Tide Table.

To-day—High tide, 5:50 a. m. and 6:22 p. m.; low tide, 12:35 a. m.

To-morrow—Low tide, 12:45 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.; high tide, 6:32 a. m. and 7:14 p. m.

Temperatures in Other Cities.

Temperatures in other cities, together with the amount of rainfall, for the twelve hours ended at 8 p. m. yesterday, are as follows:

City	Max.	Min.	8 p. m.	Fall.
Asheville, N. C.	78	56	66	0.04
Atlanta, Ga.	80	64	72	0.32
Baltimore, Md.	62	51	58	0.00
Birmingham, Ala.	88	58	72	0.04
Boston, Mass.	65	48	56	0.00
Buffalo, N. Y.	62	46	56	0.00
Chicago, Ill.	62	48	52	0.00
Cincinnati, Ohio	61	42	48	0.18
Cleveland, Ohio	58	40	48	0.21
Dayton, Ohio	62	42	50	0.00
Denver, Colo.	68	42	52	0.14
Des Moines, Iowa	68	54	63	0.12
Indianapolis, Ind.	68	42	52	0.00
Jacksonville, Fla.	82	66	74	0.38
Kansas City, Mo.	68	54	62	0.00
Little Rock, Ark.	82	66	74	0.38
Marquette, Mich.	66	52	60	0.00
Memphis, Tenn.	68	48	58	0.12
Mobile, Ala.	82	62	74	0.04
New Orleans, La.	82	62	74	0.04
New York, N. Y.	66	52	62	0.00
North Platte, Neb.	71	56	68	0.02
Omaha, Neb.	71	56	68	0.02
Pittsburgh, Pa.	70	58	68	0.00
Salt Lake City, Utah	82	68	78	0.30
St. Louis, Mo.	68	54	62	0.00
St. Paul, Minn.	62	50	52	0.04
Springfield, Ill.	68	62	72	0.01
Vicksburg, Miss.	84	61	70	0.42

The Sunday issue of The Washington Herald has no color and no comic, but is brimful of things worth reading. Once a reader, always a reader.

TRY IT IN YOUR BATH

SCRUBB'S Mollient Ammonia

A DELIGHTFUL PREPARATION

Refreshing as a Turkish Bath. Invaluable for Toilet Purposes.

Splendid Cleansing Preparation for the Hair. Removes Stains and Grease Spots from Clothing.

Alays the Irritation caused by Mosquito Bites. Unexcelled for Cleansing the Finger Nails.

Restores the Color to Carpets. Cleans Plate and Jewelry. Softens Hard Water.

So Vivifying after Motoring and other Sports.

At Grocers and Druggists, 25c. per Large Bottle.

SCRUBB &amp; CO., LTD., Greenwich Street, NEW YORK.

HUSBAND SLEEPS UNDER BED

Wife Also Admits Beating Little Joseph Now and Then.

Insists She Only Does It When He Needs Chastisement, However, Takes Him Along.

New York, May 24.—Joseph Bjelk, forty-eight years old, small in stature and meek in appearance, was haled before Magistrate Finn in Yorkville Court this morning on a warrant obtained by his wife, Katherine, who charged Joseph with abandoning her and their two children a month ago. Their home is at 340 East Forty-eighth street.

When the magistrate asked Bjelk what he had to say for himself Joseph held up a crooked little finger and pointed to an eye that was out of order.

"The did that," he exclaimed through an interpreter. "And she makes me sleep under the bed and feeds me on cold victuals. Besides, she is jealous, and when she sees me as much as speak to another woman she beats me."

"How is this?" demanded Magistrate Finn of Katherine. "Do you beat your husband?"

"Yes, sometimes," the woman replied.

"How often?" persisted the magistrate.

"Whenever he needs it; sometimes only two or three times a month, sometimes every day. When he is good I don't beat him."

"Why do you make him sleep under the bed?"

The woman was unable to answer this question for the fit of laughter into which it threw her. She finally subsided, however, and then the magistrate asked Joseph if he was willing to go home with Katherine. Joseph didn't think he was.

"Well, I guess there's no use trying to reconcile you two," said the magistrate. "Are you willing to pay your wife $5 a week, Joseph?"

Bjelk said he was. Then the magistrate wanted to know of Katherine if she would take her husband's word for the payment.

"I will not," replied Mrs. Bjelk, promptly.

"Then I will have to send him to jail, warned the magistrate.

This made Mrs. Bjelk ponder a bit. Finally she decided to take Joseph home, whether he would go or not, and give him another trial.

"All right," said Magistrate Finn.

So Katherine motioned imperiously to Joseph and started for the door, poor Joseph in his wake.

PRESBYTERIANS ADJOURN.

The Assembly Defends Anti-Saloon League—Meets in Kansas City.

Columbus, Ohio, May 24.—The Presbyterian General Assembly adjourned to-night, after selecting Kansas City as the next place of meeting.

The Anti-Saloon League to-day lost its fight against the report of the permanent temperance committee because that body favored the church temperance federation, which the General Assembly, without a dissenting voice, adopted the report of that committee.

The league, however, secured a commendation, and Rev. T. R. Worrell, of Pennsylvania, who presented the report, and who had room for it, and should divide money in the propagation of its work, but that the church should be an entirely separate organization.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Washington, Friday, May 24, 1907.—The conditions have changed but little since Thursday night, and are expected to remain about the same for the next few days.

Temperatures are, as a rule, somewhat lower, although there are no changes of consequence. As there is a marked depression over Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, and a well-defined high area over the Lakes, there is no present prospect of considerable improvement in weather conditions during the next two days over the districts east of the Rocky Mountains, and showers will continue over the lower portion of this extensive area, without decided temperature changes, except in the Middle States, where it will be somewhat cooler.

SPECIAL FORECASTS.

Post warnings have been issued for Utah, Western Colorado, the northern portions of New Mexico and Arizona, Idaho, Eastern Oregon, and Northwestern Washington, and warnings of freezing temperatures for Wyoming.

Local Temperature.

Midnight, 62; 2 a. m., 59; 4 a. m., 57; 6 a. m., 57; 8 a. m., 56; 10 a. m., 55; 12 noon, 52; 2 p. m., 55; 4 p. m., 56; 6 p. m., 58; 8 p. m., 60; 10 p. m., 61; Maximum, 62; Minimum, 52.

Tide Table.

To-day—High tide, 5:50 a. m. and 6:22 p. m.; low tide, 12:35 a. m.